

Enterprises supply chain management for development of business

Title	Enterprises supply chain management for development of business
Author Order	8 of 12
Accreditation
Abstract	Abstract-Institutional and social capital theories can help to understand how social enterprises can contribute and transform sustainable supply chains. This article introduces a framework that seeks to understand social enterprise and entrepreneurship capabilities in transforming institutions to strengthen supply chain sustainability and briefly gives some preliminary findings related to social capital and supply chains. Presently the social entrepreneurship has many areas to explore and having exceptionally golden opportunities to reform the business research. With this article an analytical model and business model is proposed for commercial entrepreneurship. It also works as a bridge between many communities and the industries. Here it is also presented a roadmap for the future scope of industrial development. In this study it is try to explain that how a social entrepreneurship can work by providing high end services and user demands and also refer to establish many new industries. The new findings and the upcoming possible demands of a user are focused by this article.
Publisher Name	International Journal of Supply Chain Management
Publish Date	2020-04-27
Publish Year	2020
Doi
Citation
Source	International Journal of Supply Chain Management
Source Issue	Vol 9, No 2 (2020): International Journal of Supply Chain Management (IJSCM)
Source Page	1100 - 1103
Url	http://ojs.excelingtech.co.uk/index.php/IJSCM/article/view/4758/2408
Author	HARTONO, M.Si